The publisher regrets that the following error appeared in this paper when it was published in Dams and Reservoirs 24(1): 19–22.

The first line of the final bullet under the subheading ‘Conclusions’ read:

‘The process will be introducing obligations to 19 undertakers and in such circumstances it would appear to be unreasonable to require significant expenditure to clarify a provisional designation made on a conservative basis.’

It should have read:
